MEET OUR NEW PRESIDENT

Milton C. Moreland is the 21st President of Centre College. A native of Boise, Idaho, he earned his undergraduate degree in history with honors from the University of Memphis, where his mentor, Dr. Marcus Orr, introduced him to the joy of studying ancient texts, languages, and artifacts. Moreland wrote his honors thesis on the Nag Hammadi Library, a set of early Christian texts discovered in Egypt in 1945. He continued his study of archaeology, ancient history, and religion at the Claremont Graduate University in California, where he earned his MA and Ph.D. degrees.

His scholarly work appears in leading journals and focuses on Roman archaeology and religious traditions in the Mediterranean region. Moreland has also edited several books, including Between Text and Artifact: Integrating Archaeology into Biblical Studies Teaching.

Prior to joining the Centre community this year, Moreland served for 6 years as the Provost and chief academic officer at Rhodes College. He first joined the Rhodes campus community in 2003 and was promoted to associate and full professor, serving as the R.A. Webb Professor of Religious Studies, and Chair of the Archaeology Program.

During that time, Moreland directed the Rhodes Institute for Regional Studies, and was the founding director of the Lynne and Henry Turley Memphis Center. Outside of the classroom, his field work with students has involved travel to sites in Jordan, Turkey, Greece, and Germany, including collaboration with the Duke University Field School in Israel. Moreland was on the senior staff of the Sepphoris Regional Archaeological Project in Galilee for over 20 years.

CENTRE COLLEGE STATEMENT OF PURPOSE

Centre College is a small, independent, and selective educational community dedicated to study in the liberal arts as a means to develop the intellectual, personal, and moral potential of its students. Centre nurtures in its students the ability to think logically and critically, to work creatively, to analyze and compare values, and to write and speak with clarity and grace. It acquaints students with the range of accomplishments of the human mind and spirit in a variety of arts and theoretical disciplines. It enables students to choose and fulfill significant responsibilities in society. In short, Centre's highest priority is to prepare its students for lives of learning, leadership, and service.

A long and rich tradition of tolerance, freedom of enquiry, and community informs all aspects of college life. Centre accomplishes its goals in an atmosphere of caring and respectful relationships among faculty, students, and staff, aided by its broadly conceived, nonsectarian, Judeo-Christian heritage. This tradition commits Centre to a belief in the unconditional value of each human being, to an appreciation of the differences among people, and to a recognition of the close connection between responsible self-development and community well-being.

STATEMENT OF COMMUNITY

We pledge continuing efforts to build and strengthen a community enriched by our differences and founded upon our common humanity. Centre respects the right of all members of the community to express their individuality in a manner that is consistent with the dignity and welfare of others. Centre strives to create an environment where differences are celebrated rather than discouraged, where individuals have the opportunity to exchange ideas and share in the richness of mutual experience. By valuing the individual's total character over any single characteristic, Centre will maintain its unique community.

MISSION STATEMENT

First adopted by the Board of Trustees in 1999 and reaffirmed in 2015, the college's mission stems from the broader Statement of Purpose. Centre College's mission is to prepare students for lives of learning, leadership and service.

ALMA MATER: CENTRE DEAR

Sung for the first time by the Centre College chorus at a chapel program in 1942. The words were written by Rev. Elwood L. Haines of Christ Church Cathedral of Louisville. The music was composed by Professor Richard Warner, head of the College's music department.

Centre dear, we offer thee
Love profound and praises free.
Where thy walls of ivy rise
God unseals our blinded eyes.
Where thy tree-lined pathways lure
Friendships spring eternal sure.
For thy gifts we offer thee,
Centre dear, our loyalty.

We thy sons and daughters, free
Through the truth revealed by thee,
Strong in resolution rise
To the future's enterprise.
Duty is our beacon pure,
Honor is our standard sure.
For thy gifts we offer thee,
Centre dear, our loyalty.

A BRIEF HISTORY OF CENTRE COLLEGE

Centre has remained steadfast in its mission of providing superior education in the liberal arts tradition. Currently, Centre's enrollment is approximately 1,300 students. Centre is among the smallest coeducational colleges in the United States to have a Phi Beta Kappa Chapter and the only private institution in Kentucky to do so. Centre's image as a small school capable of startlingly large achievements was enhanced by its 1921 football victory over Harvard University, then ranked No.1. The New York Times later called Centre's achievement "the greatest upset in the first half of the 20th century."

In 2000, Centre became the smallest college ever to host a national election debate. Vice presidential candidates Joe Lieberman and Dick Cheney held their debate in Centre's Norton Center for the Arts, the debate was quickly dubbed the "Thrill in the 'Ville." In 2012, Centre hosted a second vice presidential debate between Joe Biden and Paul Ryan.

Centre set another national record when it achieved a 75.4 percent participation rate for alumni contributing to the college's annual fund, a record that remains unbroken. Centre has led the nation in the percentage of alumni who make contributions to their college over the last 25 years.

Centre notable alumni include two U.S. vice presidents (John Cabell Breckinridge-Class of 1838 and Adlai Ewing Stevenson-Class of 1859), two members of the U.S. Supreme Court (Frederick M. Vinson-Class of 1909 and Class of 1911-Law, chief justice of the United States; and Associate Justice John Marshall Harlan-Class of 1850), and a number of U.S. senators, representatives, and state governors. Other Centre alumni have been and are leaders in business, teaching, medicine, law, and journalism.

Centre's strong connection with the past brings added meaning to the present, and provides inspiration for the tradition to be continued in the future.

Centre College received its charter from the Kentucky Legislature on January 21, 1819. Classes began in the Fall of 1820 in the first building of the College, Old Centre, with a faculty of two and a student body of five.

ABOUT THE FAMILY ENGAGEMENT PROGRAM STAFF

The Family Engagement Program is a valuable resource to Centre families. The staff is available to assist parents and families with questions or concerns pertaining to their students' experience at Centre College.

Megan Milby

Megan graduated from Centre in 2003 with a B.A. in Anthropology. In 2007, she joined Centre's staff and in 2009 was promoted to director of alumni engagement. In 2018, Megan was promoted to Director of Alumni & Family Engagement. Megan stays active on campus by serving on the Human Resources Committee, Bicentennial Executive Committee, and serving as director of the Creative Campus initiative. Locally, she sits on the board for CASA of the Bluegrass and is an alumnae member of Kappa Alpha Theta. Megan and her husband, Kevin, director of Public Safety, reside in Danville, Ky.

Centre Families are encouraged to stay informed through the parent section of the Centre website as well as reading bi-annual Family e-Newsletters sent during the Fall and Spring semesters. First-year parents and senior parents will also receive brief monthly emails to aid in first-year student success and helpful hints to prepare seniors for life after Centre.

ABOUT THE THE CENTRE PARENT FUND

Centre College is known for breaking records and going above and beyond the call of duty. Centre College parents have joined the tradition. During previous academic years, nearly 50 percent of Centre parents showed their satisfaction by contributing $127,000 in gifts to the College. Few schools in the country can boast that more than half of their parents make gifts to the institution. Centre is proud to be counted among those lucky few.

Year after year, more and more parents make gifts to Centre College. In doing so, they indicate to Centre, and the larger academic community, that they are pleased with the experience their students receive. These gifts not only demonstrate satisfaction with Centre, but also make a tangible difference in the quality of students' lives on campus. The Parent Fund supports many campus enhancements and extra programs that make Centre College so special. Gifts provided during the previous years were used for three primary purposes:

- Support a student internship program, which will help students offset the cost of housing and transportation
- The Collegiate Readership Program
- Assistance with the airport shuttle service

As the year begins, Centre parents again have an opportunity to make a difference. In addition to the continuation of the student internship program and airport shuttle service, the Parent Fund will also provide the funding for a new library study space, a new green initiative, and the purchase of new big screen televisions for the Campus Center. To adequately support these initiatives, the Parent Fund will need to generate funds. Centre parents continue to partner with the College year after year to enhance the experience for all students. We are confident that parents will again rise to the challenge.

Please keep these goals in mind, and make a gift to the Centre Parent Fund today!

To contribute to the Parents Fund or for more information visit the website at <https://www.centre.edu/parents/parent-fund/>

ABOUT THE CENTRE PARENTS ASSOCIATION

Every current parent is a member of the Centre Parents Association. The purpose is to promote a positive relationship between Centre parents, guardians, and the college. Parents or guardians often co-sponsor campus activities, events, or resources through the Parents Fund. These contributions have made a profound difference in the lives of Centre College students.

The Parents Committee is the executive body of the Centre Parents Association. This advisory group makes decisions about the projects supported by the Parent Fund and provides leadership in parent giving, as well as other parent activities. They also host the breakfast stations during final exams and other events for parents and students, such as the Fall welcome.

POINTERS FOR PARENTS, GUARDIANS, AND FAMILIES

GENERAL INFORMATION

The Centre College Website (www.centre.edu) is an excellent source for information as well Facebook and other social media.

The Family Engagement Office sends targeted emails to parents of first-year and senior students. Two e-newsletters are sent to parents in the middle of both the Fall and Spring terms.

The alumni magazine Centrepiece is mailed to parents and is an excellent resource to find out what is happening with Centre alumni.

COMMUNICATION TIPS

Email. All students have a Centre email account. We suggest that you have a conversation with them EARLY about the importance of checking their Centre email. Email is the “official” means of communication between the College and the students, and between the professors and their students, so they need to learn to watch their Centre email for important official announcements/communication about their classes. Not seeing their email is NOT an accepted excuse for missing important deadlines or class assignments. We find that some students who aren’t regular users of email, will miss important information by not checking their Centre email. You can help with this by emailing them frequently – short, encouraging emails, with “newsy” items about your family, home, and community. Don’t expect a lot in return – they’re busy, but they will appreciate hearing from you. And while they may not always think to ask, they DO want to know what’s going on with family members and friends from home.

The importance of real conversations. Talk with your student before coming to Centre and decide on a time to call each week. Students are busy - but it is important to keep in touch with family. We encourage you to have a REAL conversation at least once a week. You can tell a lot, as you know them better than anyone, by the tone of their voice, by things they’re NOT saying. Be supportive as they encounter the many challenges that college life brings. Listening is often the main thing they want from you. Show your interest by asking questions about their classwork – beyond “what are you taking?” and “what grades did you make?” Express genuine interest in what they’re learning – ask why they like a particular class, what’s the most interesting part of the course, or what is the biggest challenge from that class. Ask what class is their least favorite and why. Research shows that students who are supported by interested parents do much better.

Visiting. We recommend that you let your student know you are coming instead of just dropping in. Your time with them may be limited - they will enjoy seeing you and being fed and spoiled a little, showing off the campus and their friends, but then, they will want to get back into their routine.

GET INVOLVED

Participate. Loyalty is a tradition at Centre. As a parent, you can make a statement about loyalty, just as most of our alumni do each year! Centre’s alumni have long been known as among the most loyal in the nation, having been number one in participation with annual giving for over 20 years. And, each year more than half of our parents join in the tradition of loyalty by participating in the Centre Parents Fund,

with contributions ranging from $5 to $5,000. By participating, our parents say through their gifts, large and small, that they are confident in and satisfied with their student's education. Centre is deeply grateful for this extra investment and for the level of commitment it demonstrates. The college uses this leverage when securing gifts from foundations and corporations. As far as we know, we are the only college in the nation that can state that half of our alumni, half of our parents, and half of the graduating class, made gifts to the annual fund. We hope you'll consider being a part of this Centre tradition.

Help with recruiting and promote Centre. Word of mouth is still one of the best ways to let people know about Centre, and the good things you say in your community and to your friends are helpful to us. If you have contacts with your local media, mention Centre College to them. Tell them if your son or daughter won an award, made the Dean's List, or is in a play or any activity here, and ask them to run the campus news release that is generally sent to them. Tell your friends about us, tell prospective students and their parents about us, tell potential major donors or foundations that you know about us. Tell the story. We know it, but not everyone does.

Attend Centre events in your area. The Alumni Office hosts Centre events all over the country. If you get an invitation to one in your area, please attend – and take a prospective student and parent along.

Career help - Hire them or help them. You can hire our graduates or keep an ear out for job openings in your area. You can also provide "shadowing" opportunities or internships for our students, or talk with them about your work. Centre prides itself on the Centre network – our alumni, parents, and friends – who are critical in helping our graduates find employment and internships. If your company or organization could benefit from having a bright, eager Centre student, either as an intern or as an employee, please contact the Center for Career & Professional Development at (859) 238-5283.

TIPS FOR FAMILIES OF FIRST-YEAR STUDENTS

"It will get better." If your student calls you within the first few hours saying they are homesick, listen supportively...but encourage them to get through a day at a time. Remind them this is a new situation, and that a certain amount of anxiety is normal. Encourage them to stay with the orientation program schedule and to be open to new experiences. Remind them that every new student has some of these feelings and the RAs (Resident Assistants) in each dorm are trained and available. In most cases, these feelings disappear within the first few months of school.

Roommate issues. If your student calls early in the semester with complaints about the roommate, encourage them to talk with the roommate, and if they cannot work out their differences, to seek help from the RA who can also involve Student Life staff if necessary. Do not jump in too quickly to solve the problem. This type of conflict resolution is a critical life skill that students need to develop.

Healthy lifestyle. Encourage your student to develop a healthy lifestyle. Wellness activities are an important part of campus life at Centre. Developing healthy eating, sleep, and exercise habits early on before academic demands are high will benefit them through the more stressful parts of the year. Remind them that sleep deprivation is a serious problem for college students and exacerbates many other problems, including academic performance difficulties.

Time Management. Encourage your student to organize time around the academic schedule and to use a planner. You may want to remind them that going to class is a requirement at Centre, and that other activities, although often important, take second place to class attendance and participation. Remind them of the academic advisor and the academic affairs office who are available to assist every student.

Concerns about grades. When you text, talk, or email your student about academics, ask general questions about how classes are going and what they are learning rather than always just asking about grades. Encourage and reassure when they may not make the grades they made in high school. This is a common experience for first-year students toward the end of the Fall semester. Convey the message that they can do the work at Centre.

Finances. Financial issues will probably need to be clarified with your student on an ongoing basis as the year progresses. Once students are actually on campus, they may know more about how much spending money they need and for what purposes. It is always better to discuss and clarify than to have a situation, such as an overdrawn bank account.

Use resources. Remind your student that campus resources exist for all types of problems and encourage them to utilize those resources BEFORE a problem gets out of control. “Sooner, rather than later” is the best practice. If you have concerns about your student and need to talk about those concerns, please feel free to call the Family Engagement Office.

ADVICE FOR CENTRE PARENTS from former Cente parents

Encourage your student to take advantage of The Center for Career & Professional Development Office from the first year on and to do at least one internship.
—Ashley Gairing

Let them struggle with their own problems before intervening. Discuss a budget before they go.
—M/M John H. Clark, III

No child tires of hearing that his parents are proud of him - for whatever reason.
—Marcia Hermann

The son or daughter that you leave in Danville in September will not be the same person that returns to you in May. The growth curve is about as great as it was between birth and one year - so expect great changes. Take special care of the siblings left at home, they miss their brother/sister as much as you do, so be kind to them and don't dump the missing child's responsibilities on the one that remains.
—Franklin Foster

I think the most important thing is to be patient and let them know you are always there for them no matter what. I also think it is good to send things like food and snail mail so that your child has something in their mailbox occasionally.
—Jeff and Cherry Calender

I have to honestly commend Centre. Our son is our first to go to College, and I honestly can say we were well prepared by the school to handle this! Our son fell into College life easily, and we are certain it is because this school knows how to get a family ready to go to College. Our son is so happy at Centre...it was absolutely the best choice. The school cares about their students, it is small enough, and they have the time to care!
—Robert and Kathleen Dunworth

Let them make their own decisions, decide what they want to bring, arrange the room, etc. Give opinions only when asked! Allow them to be independent from the start, figure out their finances, laundry, etc. I found the fewer suggestions I made, the better.
—Katie Wolnitzek, George Mackenzie

We found we needed to adjust our expectations with regard to communication. What works for us is to have our student call us on Sunday evenings at their convenience. Email works well in-between.
—John and Toni Goetzman

Communicate a lot. Use email, letters. Let your kid know what you know about the friends they left. Everyone likes mail.
—George Mackenzie

After dropping our son off we planned a trip for us on our way back home. We were distracted by everything we saw and did and it helped ease the separation anxiety. When we got home, it felt natural for the house to be quiet.

—Gayle Freeman

Get their schedule so you can be in the know from a distance. Take notes when you have phone calls. Keep in mind that a crisis this evening may very well have dissipated by morning and know that there are some very devoted people looking out for your child!

—Sara Beery

Don't freak out if they have their head shaved. It grows back. Just sayin'!

—Melissa Newhall

Relax! Try not to sit and stress over what "might" or "might not" happen. Encourage your young adult to join in activities and not to be staying in their rooms. Centre is an AWESOME place and they have a wide variety of activities for the many different interests the students have."

—Sue Petit Robertaccio

If your student is an athlete and you live far away, watch games on live stream. Lots of other schools in the conference livestream, too.

—Annette Bruer Tarver

It's about trust. Trust your child and trust the Centre educators, administration and support staff. Coaches, too! Best decision we could have made – trust!

—Pat Davidson

"Our first surprise was having so many professors, staff and students on hand as freshmen moved in. Our second was how easily our only child seemed to adapt to her new home and circumstances."

—Marcia Hermann

CENTRE COLLEGE BOOKSTORE

The bookstore sells Centre clothing, hats, umbrellas, and other items with the school logo. Students can also pre-order textbooks from the bookstore as soon as they get their schedule so that the books will be ready and waiting for them when they come to campus. Students can find out their textbooks (after they get their schedules) by going to the College bookstore website. In theory, students may buy their books any time after getting their schedules but...schedules can change... so, for the first term at least, it is recommended that they get their books at the College Bookstore just before classes start.

Students can use credit cards, checks (with their student ID), debit card, Centre Bucks, or cash to make purchases at the Centre Bookstore.

Students seeking a hassle-free path to the right course materials will find it at the bookstore. In addition to rental and used book options, the Centre Bookstore offers price matching. The customer brings in a printed screenshot or ad shown via a mobile device for a textbook advertised at a lower price from a qualifying competing retailer. As long as it is the identical textbook and it is in stock, the customer is eligible to receive the difference in price through a bookstore gift card. This ensures the bookstore customers get their materials at the lowest cost possible.

Visit the Centre College Bookstore website at www.centrecollegeshop.com.

MISCELLANEOUS MATTERS 2020-2021

FACEBOOK | If you use Facebook, search for “Centre College Families” and follow the page.

CENTRE PARENT WEBPAGE | For helpful information and important dates visit <https://www.centre.edu/parents/>

ACADEMIC ADVISOR | Students should expect to receive several communications over the summer from an Orientation Leader (OL) who is an upper-level student, trained to help students prepare for orientation and help navigate the first months of class.

FINAL EXAM SCHEDULES | PLAN TRAVEL ACCORDINGLY | Please talk with your student at the start of each term to find out their final exam schedules. This information is posted both on the class syllabus and the Registrar’s webpage at <https://www.centre.edu/calendars-schedules/>

We ask that you not book flights before your student’s last exam time. Students are expected to take final exams as scheduled. Exams may only be rescheduled in the case of an extreme emergency. So, please plan your student’s travel arrangements accordingly as they will not be excused from a final due to a booked flight. There are a few mandatory events for students during the year – including Opening Convocation for first-year students and mandatory orientation sessions. Excuses are not accepted for missing these mandatory events.

OPENING CONVOCATION | New students are required to attend and the attire is business casual. Please be sure your student packs at least one outfit that can be considered appropriate for this evening event (collared shirt/jacket, skirt/dress/nice slacks). This event is intended for first-year students and the Centre Community.

RESIDENCE HALL ROOMS: Roommate assignment letters are mailed around mid-July with information about your student’s roommate and their assigned residence hall and room number. For approximate measurements, floor plans, and other information please visit <https://www.centre.edu/life-at-centre/residence-life/>

TIPS FOR MOVE-IN DAY: You’re in for a special treat on move-in day. For all of you who arrive on the regular first-year move-in day, a team of volunteers – including everyone from the President, faculty, and staff, to our super Orientation Leaders (OL) and Resident Assistants (RA) – will swoop down on your car and you may not have to carry ONE SINGLE THING to the room! Fall first-year athletes who move in on early dates may also have some help on hand from upper-class team-mates.

We used to surprise people with this special move-in, but we have seen that there is some STRESS on that day about the whole move-in, so we want to let you know that if you arrive at the regular move-in time, you will have a good deal of help unloading the car. We have found that it bewilders some families who were expecting to spend HOURS moving. So, we’re letting you in on the surprise ahead of time.

You will be given directions at check-in about parking for unloading and for where to park after you are finished unloaded. We ask is that you MOVE YOUR CAR AFTER UNLOADING and park in one of the designated long-term parking lots that will be marked for that day. This will help ensure the system works as designed and, as a result, everyone will benefit. The extra time saved means you can relax and spend your time helping your student get their room in order!

PARKING IN GENERAL | For the most part, Centre’s Department of Public Safety will not tow cars unless they are parked in front of a fire hydrant, present an immediate hazard, or have received more than a few parking tickets. When you visit the College, you may park in student, faculty, and staff lots. We suggest you let the Department of Public Safety know if you are going to be on campus for more than a few hours. They will issue you a guest parking pass. DPS is located on West Walnut Street. The phone number is 859-236-HELP.

Your student will receive instructions via email within the first few days on campus for registering their vehicle. They will receive a decal through Campus Mail (at the campus post office). The decal MUST be visible on the vehicle. If you have any concerns about your students’ vehicle(s) being towed, please encourage them to park in the Student Parking areas with a registered decal. Public Safety will make a few allowances during the first week, allowing students a reasonable amount of time to register online and place the decal in their vehicle.

PARENT QUESTIONNAIRE | If you have not yet completed the Parent Questionnaire, please visit – <http://alumni.centre.edu/familyinfo>. Filling out the questionnaire will ensure you receive Centre Family mailings, important updates, invitations, e-newsletters, etc.

CENTRE DOCUMENT SERVICES (CDS)

The Centre Post Office is also home to the Centre Document Services where students, faculty, and staff are offered printing services that can be charged to their account.

Students may submit print requests to CDS and use their ID card and printing account to pay. Charges are applied to the student's printing allocation or they may pay by cash.

In addition to standard printing jobs, CDS can also print posters from the large format printer! Contact CDS for pricing and turn-around time.

STUDENT PRINTING ACCOUNT

Network printing and copying is available using shared printers located in the library and other areas on campus. Students may also connect a personal printer directly to their own computers. To control costs and discourage inappropriate and wasteful printing, printing is monitored on network printers.

Students use their ID card or email username/password to pay and print or copy from print stations.

Beginning Fall term each student is allocated funds by the college in their printing account for the entire academic year. The allocation will usually be enough - but if not, students may purchase a pre-paid printer code card from the cashier's office or the library in denominations of $5, $10 and $20. Full recharge instructions are printed on the pre-paid cards and are completed online through PaperCut®, entering the one-time code from the pre-paid printer code card. In "emergency situations" students can ask to "borrow" pages from fellow students after business hours - using the online transfer method.

EXTRACURRICULAR ACTIVITIES AT CENTRE

For a Centre student's college experience to reach its fullest potential, involvement in campus life is essential. The Office of Campus Activities helps students achieve this by coordinating numerous programs and events, and by working with various campus organizations to ensure Centre students can discover, develop and fully engage their diverse interests while here. Centre hosts over 2,000 events per year for its students, both on and off-campus. Our goal is for campus to be brimming with a variety of events and activities that appeal to a wide range of students offering as many opportunities as possible to have fun, meet new people, and try something different.

COMMUNITY SERVICE AND LEADERSHIP

Volunteerism is an important component of Centre's commitment to prepare students for lives of learning, leadership, and service. CARE (Centre Action Reaches Everyone) is Centre's umbrella volunteer service organization and serves as a liaison between Centre and the community volunteer opportunities with organizations such as the Humane Society, the Recycling Center, Ephraim McDowell Hospital, local nursing homes, Wilderness Trace Child Development Center, Bluebird Market, the Salvation Army, Big Brothers/Big Sisters, the Housing Authority, the Rape Crisis Center, the Hope Clinic, and several afterschool programs.

In addition, CARE members are responsible for coordinating projects such as the Fall and Spring blood drives, Read Across America Day, the Christmas Angel Tree project, Poverty and Homelessness Week as well as being responsible for recruiting and coordinating the volunteer efforts of students.

BONNER SCHOLARS PROGRAM

The Bonner Scholars Program is a vibrant part of our Centre Community. Students work with a network of nonprofit community partners to provide opportunities for under-represented populations in need, contributing to a culture of service and social awareness. The students who participate in the program are uniquely transformed into campus and community leaders through the personal and professional growth that comes from membership in the Bonner family and regular engagement in training sessions, retreats, and experiential learning through service. Members of the Bonner Scholars Program share the same common commitments to diversity, social justice, international perspectives, spiritual exploration, civic engagement, and community building.

CLUBS AND ACADEMIC SOCIETIES

There are many. Centre offers activities for every interest. Students can join a service organization, a pre-professional society (pre-med or pre-law), visual and performing arts group, religious group, peace and justice group, publication staff, political club, varsity or intramural athletic team or run for office in the Student Government Association. Students are welcome to join other clubs as well such as the Alpha Phi Omega Service Fraternity, American Chemical Society, Best Buddies, Chinese Club, Diversity Student Union, Economic Society, Equestrian Club, French Society, Habitat for Humanity, Hispanic Society, International Student Association, Investment Society, Japanese Club, Law Society, Pre-Veterinary Society, and Moments in Motion—are just a few of the opportunities. Centre also offers academic honor societies, a leadership fraternity, and academic fraternities delineated by major. See the Greek Life section for more information on Greek Life at Centre.

RELIGIOUS LIFE AT CENTRE

Centre's roots are Presbyterian, however, the Religious Life Office is designed to celebrate religious diversity. The college's mission is to educate students as morally and socially responsible citizens.

Religious Life at Centre strives to strengthen students' links to their own religious traditions while respecting the diversity of other religious beliefs.

In addition, the Religious Life office can provide extensive information on internships, volunteer positions, mission opportunities, and career options in the areas of social service, mission, or peace and justice work.

Religious groups on campus include Baptist Campus Ministry, Centre Christian Fellowship, CentreFaith (interfaith dialogue group), CentrePeace (peace and justice group), Jewish Student Organization, Meditation Centre, Muslim Student Association, and Newman Club (Catholic).

A "sacred space" located on campus, is an ideal place for prayer groups, discussion groups, practice of meditation, and other gatherings.

The Religious Life Office sponsors speakers, worship services, dinners, and discussion groups, events such as the Advent Service of Lessons and Carols, Lenten observances, Passover Seder, Eid Banquet, and Baccalaureate. Axtell offers a popular Christian contemplative worship service every Sunday night in the sanctuary of the Presbyterian Church adjacent to the campus.

Our Goals

- Connect students with the work of local congregations
- Promote vital religious life and greater religious understanding on campus
- Develop the moral and ethical conscience of students as socially responsible citizens
- Spiritual advising and vocational exploration

Chaplain and Professor of Religion

Dr. Rick Axtell is the Centre College Chaplain and Professor of Religion. He initially taught at Centre during 1992-93 and returned to the college in 1995, when he also became Chaplain and director of the religious life office. Axtell received his M.Div. and Ph.D. from the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary in Louisville, Kentucky. He has completed additional postgraduate studies at the University of Notre Dame. Axtell's experience as a minister in several churches, director of an interfaith anti-hunger organization, case manager in Louisville homeless shelters, and board member of Witness for Peace has shaped the diverse program emphases of the Religious Life Office.

FAQ: RESIDENCE LIFE

How secure are the residence halls?

All residence halls remain locked at all times. Students must use their Centre ID cards to gain access to any of the residence halls.

If a student's ID card is lost or stolen, the student should report it to the Department of Public Safety immediately, and the card will be deactivated so that it can no longer be used to enter residence halls or obtain meals on campus. Replacement ID cards are made in the Student Life Office located on the second floor of the Campus Center, Monday-Friday, 8:30 a.m. - 4:30 p.m. There is a $25 charge for a replacement ID card. Students are encouraged to lock their doors when they are gone and to not prop open any exterior doors.

What are the housing requirements at Centre?

Centre attaches great value to life in a residential community and students are required to live in college residences and to purchase a meal plan for use in campus dining facilities. Exceptions to the residency requirement are made for students to live at home with their parents in or near Danville. Seniors wanting to live off campus must submit an application requesting to do so to the director of student life and housing by the published deadline in the Spring during the room selection process. Permission to live off campus may be granted by the housing office on a seniority basis depending upon the number of applicants and vacant beds on campus. It is unlikely that anyone other than a limited number of seniors will be granted permission to live off campus. Permission to live off campus is granted on an annual basis and is not guaranteed from year to year. Students who are granted permission to live off campus must purchase a meal plan. Married students are expected to arrange for their own off campus housing.

Can first-year students have a car on campus?

Yes. All students are permitted to have a car on campus. Students must register their vehicle online through the Department of Public Safety webpage. They will then be issued a decal indicating the lot(s) in which they are authorized to park. An annual $50 registration fee will be assessed to the student's bill.

Who are the Resident Assistants (RA) and Residence Directors (RD)?

Resident Assistants (RAs) are a select group of students who live in specific areas and have primary responsibility there, under the direction of a Residence Director. They are selected each year based upon application. Residence Directors (RDs) are experienced, highly-regarded former Resident Assistants who live in and oversee specified residences or groups of residences. The RAs act as educators, promoting the principles of citizenship and leadership. They hold informational hall meetings, plan hall activities, and are available to provide help to students.

What is Centre's visitation policy for the residence halls?

Visitation is defined as social visiting by members of the other gender in student rooms by invitation of the resident(s). Either roommate may deny the privilege of visitation in the room to any person. The housing of guests of the other gender overnight or longer is a violation of college regulations. The purpose of this regulation is to protect the privacy and rights of room and hall mates.

Upon approval by the Residence Life staff and the Student Life Office, first-year students are granted visitation privileges after the first three weeks of Fall term.

The maximum visitation hours for first-year students during the remainder of the first term are:

Sunday - Thursday: 10 a.m. - 12:30 a.m.

Friday - Saturday: 10 a.m. - 2 a.m.

First-year students will be granted 24-hour visitation after the first term.

Most buildings have a specified area, such as a basement, living room, or lounge, that has 24-hour visitation privileges as well as restroom facilities for members of the opposite sex. These privileges can be rescinded by a majority vote of the residents or due to abuse of the privilege or behavioral problems.

When do the residence halls close for campus breaks?

Residence halls are closed ONLY for the holiday break (mid-December-early January). While residence halls remain open during all other breaks, meal service is limited.

When do students have to move out after final exams?

Students are asked to leave 24 hours after their last final exam of Spring term. All residence halls close to underclass students on May 16 by 6 p.m., and to seniors on Commencement day by 8 p.m. Students should be moved out of their rooms by this time.

What is Centre's alcohol policy?

The use of alcoholic beverages by students under 21 years of age and the use of illicit drugs are prohibited on campus and at campus-sponsored events. The use of alcoholic beverages by students is a matter of individual choice and involves the student's acceptance of responsibility for whatever legal and personal consequences may ensue. The college does not accept legal liability for student violations of the law. Students who are clearly in a state of intoxication, or who represent a possible threat to their own health and safety or to that of others, or who appear prone to disorderly conduct, are subject to sanctions through the college's judicial system. In cases of disorderly conduct or vandalism connected with the abuse of alcohol, the fact that the offender had been drinking will not be treated as a mitigating circumstance in determining sanctions. The Department of Public Safety and other college officials are authorized to issue citations to those who are intoxicated in public. Centre intends to send a "zero tolerance" message regarding illegal possession or misuse of drugs, or knowingly being in the presence of those who possess or misuse drugs. Students found to be in violation of this policy are subject to immediate administrative suspension.

Whenever the use, possession, or sale of alcohol would represent a potential legal liability to the institution, the college is required to prohibit its availability. College officials cannot serve alcohol to students in violation of the law, nor can alcohol be used in places to which the public has ready access, such as athletic contests, in the dining hall, or in other locations that the college may stipulate from time to time. Specific guidelines are provided to students at the start of each fall term. Educational programs about drug and alcohol abuse are presented during new student orientation each year, and new students are required to complete an online alcohol education program before arriving on campus.

Is Centre a safe campus?

Yes. The Department of Public Safety (DPS) makes every effort to provide a safe and secure environment for students, faculty, staff and visitors. Public Safety Officers are on duty 24 hours a day, 7 days a week to help ensure the safety of Centre students. The officers are trained in various areas of general security and fire safety.

They do not limit their efforts to criminal activities, and will respond to any matter involving the personal safety of someone within the Centre College community. They are prepared for most emergencies and have implemented a campus-wide Emergency Response Plan to communicate with the Centre community in case of an emergency (see pages 42-46 for more information).

In addition, designated safe places and other pertinent information regarding severe weather and other safety evacuation procedures are posted in all campus buildings.

There are emergency phones located throughout the campus, which automatically call DPS. Also, DPS provides a 24-hour escort service for students on campus. An officer will escort a student anywhere on campus at any time. They can be reached on campus by dialing 4357 (HELP) or from off-campus at 236-4357 at any time. DPS provides crime statistics annually on their section of the Centre website as mandated by federal law.

What is Centre's policy on hazing?

Centre views any form of hazing as contrary to the mission and purpose of this institution. No individual or group may haze another at any time including initiation into any organization or at the time of affiliation with an organization.

In accordance with the Fraternity Executives Association, the National Interfraternity Conferences, and the National Panhellenic Council, Centre College defines hazing as any act of behavior whether physical, emotional, or psychological, which subjects a person, voluntarily or involuntarily, to abuse, mistreatment, degradation, humiliation, harassment, embarrassment, or intimidation, or which may in any fashion compromise her or his inherent human dignity. At Centre, respect for the personal dignity of each student, faculty, and staff member is crucial to our enterprise.

The Student Life Office is committed to appropriate personal, social, and intellectual development of all Centre students and seeks to foster an environment that promotes a positive collegiate experience.

Hazing is viewed as detrimental and contradictory to these objectives and will not be tolerated. Any member of the college community who observes a hazing incident should report it immediately to a staff member in the Student Life Office, the director of athletics, or the Department of Public Safety. Individuals or groups found guilty of hazing are subject to penalties, which may be as severe as expulsion from the college.

STUDENT HEALTH AND COUNSELING

STUDENT HEALTH

The student health center is a small walk-in medical clinic located on campus. It is open when classes are in session through finals week, closed for holidays and breaks. The staff includes a full time registered nurse, and a physician assistant. Dr. Brian Ellis and Dr. Jonathan Clark, provide 4 hours of direct patient care each week and are available by phone anytime for consultation with the RN or PA. They are also the supervising physicians for the PA as approved by the Kentucky Board of Medical Licensure.

Prescription and over the counter meds, diagnostic tests, and vaccinations are available for a reasonable cost. Payment may be made at the time of service or applied to the student's college account. If x-rays, lab studies, or certain diagnostic tests are ordered then the student is informed of where they can have the testing done with careful consideration given to that student's insurance plan. Allergy shots are administered free of charge in the student health office. Allergy shot patients should bring their vials and dosage sheets when they come to campus or have them sent directly to Centre College Student Health, 600 West Walnut Street, Danville, KY 40422.

Travel medicine will be offered to students who will study abroad for academic credit. Students will receive more information about this once they have made plans for their study abroad course through the Center for Global Citizenship office.

A women's health clinic is offered once a month by the local health department. Exams, contraceptives, testing for sexually transmitted infections, as well as other services are available. These services are also available daily for any student through the PA or MD.

STUDENT COUNSELING

Counseling is provided by three licensed mental health professionals. It is free and confidential. The number of sessions permitted are based on assessed need. The counselors are available to see students experiencing a range of problems, which include: initial transition to college, stress and anxiety, depression, substance abuse, relationship and family issues, eating disorders, sexuality issues, grief/loss issues, and any other adjustment issues. When a higher level of care is needed, student will be referred to an outside provider.

Students are seen by appointment. Parents, faculty, and staff cannot schedule appointments on behalf of a student. Students may make appointments by email to counseling@centre.edu or by calling (859) 238-5740. Flexible appointment times are available each weekday so that they do not conflict with a student's class schedule or athletic practice schedule.

Parsons medical staff members are available to prescribe some mental health medications; referrals for other medications and psychiatric consults will be provided by the Counseling staff. Any off-campus mental health services to students are the financial responsibility of the student and parents. Students are encouraged to have medications for ADD/ADHD prescribed by their family psychiatrist or family physician. Students requesting psychological testing are assisted in being referred to outside providers, either in their home community or in the central Kentucky area.

Educational information on a variety of mental health and substance abuse topics are available through Centre Counseling Services, and staff members are available for educational presentations and workshops for student groups.

SUPPORTING YOUR CHILD'S TRANSITION TO COLLEGE

from Parsons Center for Student Health and Counseling

Centre counseling services recommends Student Development Theory, from Education and Identity, by Arthur Chickering and Linda Reisser. This identifies College students' development throughout college. Their theory proposes students have seven "vectors" of developmental tasks to be accomplished during the college years. This theory is a guideline for developing programs, services, and opportunities for our students. This may also be helpful for you as parents to support your child over the next four years:

Developing competence - Intellectual knowledge, critical thinking skills, physical competence, and wellness skills.

Managing emotions - Awareness of feelings, appropriate expression of feelings, managing difficult feelings.

Moving through autonomy toward interdependence - The "leaving home" process of a decreasing need for reassurance and help from parents, more self-directedness, developing a stronger internal locus of control, learning when it is appropriate and best to depend upon others.

Establishing identity - Developing a realistic and stable sense of self, ability to integrate experience into the self, acceptance of physical and sexual self, comfort with sexual orientation.

Establishing mature interpersonal relationships
Maintaining relationships which are meaningful, mutually satisfying, supportive in difficult times, and include a wide variety of people.

Developing purpose - Establishing a life direction, including vocational plans, personal and family interests.

Developing integrity - Defining personal values to guide life decisions, developing social responsibility, and congruence between beliefs and behavior. Eighteen to twenty-five year olds are now being called "Emerging Adults" in developmental psychological theories. We see this life stage differently than a generation ago – it is viewed much more as a time of transition into the stage of adulthood, which comes later than was previously thought.

FIRST YEAR PARENT RECOMMENDATIONS

- Encourage student to think and act on their own. Do less for them, more WITH them. Be supportive, interested, but, if possible, not intrusive.
- Encourage student to use available resources and assistance that are there to help.
- Use parent resources the college provides to you. Centre sends carefully chosen, well researched information to parents to make this transition smoother.
- Establish good communication patterns now and talk about how you will communicate after college.
- Encourage and model good self-care including sleeping, eating, exercise, general stress management. Take care of yourself during this time of significant change in the life of your family.
- Send student to college with basic daily living skills such as laundry, health insurance, financial information, vehicle information, personal safety, internet safety and wisdom, good time management.
- Talk to student about alcohol use. A recent, and very well done, study indicates that if parents talk with their children before they leave for school, they can significantly influence their drinking to be more low risk after they arrive on campus.
- Be honest and realistic about the challenges of this transition from high school to college. Share your positive expectations.
- Know the warning signs of problems which need to be addressed. Share any strong family history of those problems.
- Enjoy your time together. Create great memories to cherish.

GREEK LIFE ON CAMPUS

A Parents Guide to Greek Life on Campus

Fraternalities and Sororities have been a part of Centre College for many years (fraternities for over 155 years and sororities for the last 30 years). Traditionally, they have challenged students to achieve even greater heights intellectually, personally, and socially. The undergraduate members at Centre pride themselves on the individual personality and nature of their fraternity or sorority on campus. The Greek Life community offers a rich and rewarding experience for their members. In addition, they have contributed substantially to campus life, community service, and the educational mission of the College.

Centre offers six fraternities for men and six sororities for women. The strength and attractiveness of fraternities and sororities lie in their ability to develop innovative approaches and to maintain effective programs that maximize the character of the chapters and the community within the overall framework of the college. Although each fraternity or sorority sponsors its own functions and possesses its own identity, all have many things in common. They all seek to foster an environment where one can:

- Develop bonds of brotherhood / sisterhood
- Develop leadership and interpersonal skills
- Form lifetime friendships
- Work together with others in an atmosphere of teamwork
- Perform community service projects
- Program social functions for the student community

The underlying purpose of the college is education: to nurture intellectual curiosity, to instruct in various disciplines, to encourage social and moral growth, and to provide an atmosphere conducive to the pursuit of these goals. It is the responsibility of fraternities and sororities to foster an atmosphere of learning, social responsibility, respect for human dignity, and to provide positive influence and constructive development for members and prospective members.

Centre also offers academic honor societies, one of which, Phi Beta Kappa, is the only chapter at a private school in Kentucky. In addition, Centre has a chapter of Omicron Delta Kappa, a leadership fraternity, and academic fraternities delineated by major. These academic fraternities are: Beta Beta Beta (biology), Omicron Delta Epsilon (economics), Phi Alpha Theta (history), Phi Sigma Iota (foreign language), Pi Mu Epsilon (math), Pi Sigma Alpha (government), Psi Chi (psychology), Sigma Delta Pi (Spanish), and Sigma Pi Sigma (physics).

INTERFRATERNITY & PANHELLENIC COUNCILS

The Interfraternity Council (IFC) is the governing body of the six fraternities at Centre. The body is comprised of two delegates from each fraternity and an executive council. IFC provides an avenue for each fraternity to effectively communicate with each other; for each organization to follow the same set of guidelines; to create, maintain, and perpetuate better relations among men's internationally recognized fraternities on campus; to provide a means of solving problems and injustices within the system itself; and to establish and promote programs in keeping with the college's purposes and objectives. IFC is dedicated to providing effective programming for the campus at large. IFC can be seen working with the Panhellenic Council and Student Activities Council to provide not only educational programming but non-alcoholic social programming as well. IFC also works with unaffiliated men who are interested in going through formal recruitment. If you have any questions, please feel free to contact any of the executive officers listed here.

FAQ - FRATERNITY AND SORORITY LIFE AT CENTRE COLLEGE

What do fraternities and sororities have to offer Centre students?

The Greek community is comprised of eleven (inter)nationally affiliated organizations. Many students find that joining a fraternity or sorority provides them a family away from home and a foundation upon which to build a new and exciting future. In addition, the Greek community opens many doors by providing leadership, academic, athletic, service, and interpersonal opportunities. The decision to join a fraternity or sorority is a lifelong commitment to an organization built upon the best things the college has to offer.

How does a student become involved with fraternities and sororities at Centre?

Each semester, the Interfraternity and Panhellenic Councils sponsor a number of organized recruitment events – opportunities for unaffiliated students to become acquainted with fraternity and sorority life. During informal recruitment events in the Fall, unaffiliated students have the opportunity to meet the members of all of the fraternities and sororities and decide which, if any, of the chapters best suit their needs. The recruitment process is one of mutual selection in which fraternity and sorority members invite individuals to be a part of their organizations, and likewise, potential members select the chapters that are best suited for them. Fraternity and sorority recruitment events are alcohol-free: that is, NO alcohol is allowed at any recruitment activity. Even if students are unsure about joining the Greek community, recruitment offers a great opportunity to meet new people! In order to be eligible for membership in a fraternity or sorority, a student must be at least in their second semester at Centre College, with the exception of transfer students with a post secondary grade point average, and have a cumulative GPA of at least 2.4. The formal recruitment process – a structured time when both fraternities and sororities take a new class of members – occurs during the first week of the Spring semester after CentreTerm.

Can fraternities and sororities help students achieve academically?

Greek-letter organizations were founded on the principle of academic achievement, many of them having roots as literary societies. Scholastic success is likely when you factor in help from fellow members, study sessions, workshops, and class scheduling assistance. Each organization provides some form of scholastic assistance to its members; tutoring, awards, and academic scholarships are just a few of the many incentives used to challenge members to reach their highest academic potential. Ultimately, the responsibility for succeeding in the classroom is up to the individual student. But, with the broad range of resources and incentives provided by the Greek community, students can better achieve their academic potential.

What are the advantages of becoming affiliated with a fraternity or sorority?

Becoming a member of the Greek community will provide you with a number of experiences that will help you prepare for not only a career, but also for life. These advantages include developing leadership skills by chairing a committee or assuming an executive board position; succeeding academically with the help of organized study programs; increasing awareness and knowledge of a variety of topics such as alcohol risk management, multiculturalism, and gender issues; and developing enduring friendships and memories that last long after graduation. The following are but a few areas in which you can benefit through participation:

Leadership

At Centre College, the Greek community is committed to providing its members with vast opportunities for leadership responsibilities. Each member is encouraged to actively participate in chapter and campus-wide leadership roles. Greek members also develop leadership skills through retreats, conventions, and other resources available on campus.

Scholarship

The Greek community strives for the development of academic excellence among all members. All chapters at Centre College maintain GPA requirements for both membership and for assuming leadership positions. Centre reviews grade performance each semester for greek-affiliated and unaffiliated students. In recent years, the all-greek GPA has been consistently competitive, if not above, with the all-men's and all-women's average GPA for the college and the average GPA for unaffiliated students. Greek students at Centre consistently perform equally as well as their non-greek peers in the classroom.

Service

Community service and philanthropy work are an important aspect of fraternity and sorority life. Chapters offer hundreds of hours and thousands of dollars each year to fulfill their commitment to both the campus and the community. Funds raised and time donated directly benefit local and national charitable organizations.

Social

The Greek community provides a unique social life which blends events such as formal dances, sports, theme parties, and brotherhood and sisterhood functions to encourage the personal development of members through social contact. Each chapter develops its own social calendar and is required to responsibly plan events that promote a full spectrum of social activities for its members.

Athletics

Greek organizations are active participants in the campus intramurals program, and many chapter members are involved in varsity athletics as well.

Will Greek Life assist students as they begin their careers?

One of the tremendous assets of affiliation with a Greek letter organization is the nationwide network of alumni/ae members of the organization. As a student prepares for entry into a career, alumni can assist in job placement through their knowledge of where jobs are and who is hiring. In addition, Greek Life will assist students in developing transferable skills that will be needed in the career world, such as management, leadership development, communications, and more.

Does it cost a lot to be Greek?

Joining a fraternity or a sorority does have a financial commitment. The chapters are self-supporting through dues paid by their members. When students join a Greek-letter organization, they also agree to pay dues and fees while in school to maintain membership. Although chapters may make accommodations for special needs, students should clearly assess their financial obligations before deciding to join.

Each chapter has different dues for membership that cover such things as chapter and (inter) national dues, insurance premiums, dues to the campus governing council, social activities, resources, and other miscellaneous costs. While dues are subject to change each year, substantial increases are not typical.

Specific financial information for each organization is available during formal recruitment.

What is the time commitment involved in belonging to a Greek letter organization?

There is no minimum or maximum time that a student must donate to the fraternity or sorority. However, if you commit to being Greek, then you should also commit to regularly attending meetings and other activities. Most chapters typically have at least one formal meeting per week and many other optional activities. Through involvement with the organization, students will learn to better manage their time by balancing academics, work, and other commitments.

Are Greeks really like the actors in Animal House or MTV's Fraternity or Sorority Life?

Many people have the misconception that the image of Greek organizations depicted in Animal House, Fraternity and Sorority Life is really what is happening on college campuses across America. In reality, Animal House portrays Greek organizations that have turned away from their original purposes and priorities. These shows, while entertaining, do not portray Greek organizations that hold the positive aspects and contributions of Greek Life, such as service, fundraising, leadership, and education as their priorities. It is interesting to note that almost every organization that has been featured on MTV has been suspended or closed because of their activities.

The (inter)national organizations, the college, and the campus governing councils encourage responsibility in a number of ways, and hold organizations as well as individual members accountable for unacceptable behavior.

What about hazing in Greek letter organizations?

Fraternities and sororities were founded on strong moral, social, and academic principles. Hazing, or any activity which subjects members to harassment, intimidation, physical exhaustion, or mental distress is entirely contrary to those founding principles. Each of the (inter)national organizations as well as Centre College policy forbid hazing in all student activities at the college. There is no tolerance from any of these three entities for any activity that puts a student's mental or physical health or well-being in jeopardy. Occasionally, an individual or small group of fraternity/sorority members make a poor choice and in these cases the individuals and/or the organizations are held accountable. If any member of the Centre College community experiences or witnesses hazing, they should immediately report it to the Director of Greek Life and/or the Department of Public Safety.

What does being Greek really mean?

Membership in a Greek letter organization is for a lifetime. Choosing the Greek community means working with a group of men or women who can exchange and stand for common goals and ideals while being held to a higher standard than other college students. The Greek experience during the college years is a gateway to many rewards and connections later in life. Each of the twelve chapters that comprise the Greek community here develop a special bond often called brotherhood or sisterhood. Both are nurtured through common work, laughter, service projects, intramurals, and the shared successes, experiences, and frustrations of all. Throughout the student's life, membership will be an unwritten bond of friendship no matter what course his/her life takes.

The right of students, individually, or in association with other individuals, to engage freely in off-campus activities, exercising their rights as citizens of community, state, and nation, provided they do not claim to represent the college.

THE DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC SAFETY

It is the goal of the Department of Public Safety (DPS) to make every effort to provide a safe and secure environment for students, faculty, staff, and visitors to campus. The college maintains a staff of public safety officers who monitor the campus and respond to calls for assistance. The officers do not have arrest powers nor do they carry weapons. Their authority is established and defined by the administrative officers of the college. There is at least one officer on duty around the clock, seven days a week. The officers are trained in various areas of general security and fire safety. They do not limit their efforts to criminal activities, and will respond to any matter involving the personal safety of someone within the Centre College community. All DPS personnel are considered official representatives of the college. Students, other members of the community, and visitors are expected to obey any lawful directive given by these officers. Failure to comply is automatically considered a violation of college policy. Students, in particular, should at any time be prepared to present an official Centre College I.D. to officials of the college as form of identification.

Public Safety location and HELP number

The DPS office is located on West Walnut Street on the first floor of the Walnut House. The office may be reached twenty-four hours a day by dialing 4357 (HELP) if on campus or (859) 236-4357 if away from campus. The extension numbers for the directors' offices are 5534 and 5535.

Dialing 911

In the event of a serious emergency requiring the response of local emergency personnel, dial 9-911 from a campus extension, and also contact the on-duty campus safety personnel immediately.

Emergency Telephones are located at the north-east corner of Yerkes, the southeast corner of the Jones Visual Arts Center, in front of Chowan, and outside the east entrance to the Ruby Cheek House, and red international phone booth near the Walnut House. Pressing the red button (dialing is not necessary) located on the front of the telephone provides direct line access to the officer on duty.

CAMPUS EMERGENCY RESPONSE PROCEDURES

Upon discovering a potential emergency situation students should call the campus help line (4357) from a safe location as soon as possible. Give the officer as much information as possible regarding the emergency. DPS will take the necessary steps needed to notify and inform the college community of any procedures and precautions which need to be taken as a result of the emergency.

Forms of emergency communication used by the College - Updates to the Centre website are the primary source of information during an emergency.

- Emergency Mass Notification System
- E-mail
- Portable bullhorns
- Phone trees (organized group calling)
- Emergency video display in public areas

A campus wide Emergency Response Plan is available at the public safety office. The mission of the plan is to provide a coordinated, effective response in the event of a natural or man-made disaster on or around the Centre College campus, to provide for the health and safety of all affected individuals within the Centre community, to minimize property damage, and to return Centre to normal operating conditions following such an emergency. Designated safe places and other pertinent information regarding severe weather and other safety evacuation procedures are posted in all campus buildings.

Emergency Mass Notification System.

In the event of an emergency, this system will simultaneously e-mail, call, and text all students, faculty, and staff with information concerning the emergency. All students will be signed up for this service at the beginning of each academic year. Students will be able to opt out of receiving emergency texts and calls.

Emergency notification television monitors are located in Crouse, Carnegie, Cowan, 762 West Main, the Norton Center, Young Hall, Sutcliffe Hall and in the Campus Center. These devices will allow the DPS to notify members of the campus community during an emergency in these areas where cell phones may not be readily available. The monitors will only be activated in the event of an actual emergency where further action is necessary. These supplement the emergency mass notification text-messaging system.

Severe weather/tornado warning

If a severe weather situation or emergency arises, DPS will alert the entire campus by activating the Emergency Mass Notification System. In the event of a tornado watch, a mass e-mail will be sent to alert everyone to be aware of changing weather conditions.

Mental health emergencies

A student experiencing a mental health emergency may contact DPS to access an on-call member of the counseling services staff, or call (859) 238-5740 for an on-call phone number. Students may also call 911 or go to the Emergency Room of Ephraim McDowell Regional Medical Center. The recommended Suicide Prevention Lifeline number is 1-800-273-8255.

Maintenance emergencies after normal business hours or on weekends should be directed to DPS. The safety officer on duty will contact the on-call facilities management employee and he/she will respond to the situation as needed.

PARKING REGULATIONS

Vehicle registration. All motorized vehicles must be registered when they are brought to campus. All currently enrolled students who bring a vehicle to campus must register that vehicle. Students register their vehicle online. Owners will be issued a decal indicating the lot(s) in which they are authorized to park. An annual $50 registration fee will be assessed to the student's bill. Temporary decals may be purchased at the DPS office for $2 per week. For those students who do not live in Centre College residences, a commuter decal must be purchased for $10. Visitor permits are free of charge and may be obtained at the public safety office. Parking on the streets surrounding the campus does not exempt students or faculty/staff from registration and the acquisition of a decal. The static cling decal should be placed on the inside of the driver's side rear window.

Visitor parking. Students are prohibited from parking in visitor lots at any time. Visitors should obtain a free parking pass from DPS by calling ext. 4357. This pass allows them to park in any parking lot on campus.

St. Mildred's Court. Students who live in college residences on St. Mildred's Court (Rodes, Fox Hall) are required to sign an agreement to park in the lot behind the academic dean's home - across from Fox Hall - only residents of St. Mildred's Court may park in this area. Those who do not abide by these regulations are subject to citations, even though St. Mildred's is a city street.

Faculty/staff must register their vehicle online through the DPS webpage. There are designated areas for faculty/staff parking and students are not allowed to park there.

Parking fines. No decal displayed, fire lane, restricted area, yellow zone, or on the grass: $50; handicapped area $75. Fines may be paid at the DPS Office located in the Walnut House. Unpaid fines are periodically sent to the Finance Office. If you feel you were ticketed in error, you may file an appeal within seven working days from the date of the citation.

Parking appeals process. In order to consistently and efficiently address parking citations, DPS has established an appeals process. Appeals must be filed within seven working days from the date of issuance on the citation. Appeal forms can be found on CentreNet under the Forms tab then Student Life Forms. Persons filing appeals will be notified by e-mail regarding the outcome. All decisions are final. Appeals based on the following will not be recognized as a valid reason for appeal:

- Ignorance of the regulations
- Late for classes, meetings, appointments, etc.
- Inability to find convenient legal parking
- Inclement weather

Towing policy. If any member of the Centre community receives three parking tickets within the academic year, she/he will receive a notice stating that if she/he parks in an unauthorized area again, the vehicle will be towed. Once a vehicle has been towed, the owner will be notified by DPS. If the vehicle is once again parked illegally, it will be ticketed and the owner's parking privileges will be rescinded for the remainder of the academic year.

CRIME PREVENTION/PERSONAL SAFETY

Crime prevention at Centre is a top priority of the Department of Public Safety. Every reasonable effort is made to help people avoid becoming crime victims. This focus is evident in the crime prevention efforts of the DPS and the Student Life Office through which it reports. Information concerning Public Safety on campus is provided during orientation. The educational process continues periodically in residence hall meetings conducted by the Residence Directors and/or Resident Assistants. Personal security issues are brought to the students in a variety of ways during these sessions. In addition, the Department of Public Safety conducts crime prevention/public safety talks throughout the year or upon request. For a number of reasons, including respect for individual privacy, vehicle safety, and maintaining an attractive campus, the placing of handbills on automobiles or distribution of fliers or other advertisements in residence hall rooms is prohibited.

DPS provides crime statistics annually as mandated by the Federal Jeanne Clery Act and the state law known as the Michael Minger Act. This law requires the college to provide specific information about criminal activity on Centre's campus. This information must be published and distributed to the students, faculty, and staff, as well as prospective students or employees requesting it. The report is published on the calendar year and does not coincide with the academic calendar.

Safety tips

- Use the escort service. A 24-hour escort service is provided by DPS for students who live on campus
- Never walk alone. Travel in pairs using well-lit routes
- Keep your residence hall door locked at all times
- Immediately report lost or stolen ID cards
- Immediately contact DPS when a suspicious person is noticed anywhere on College property
- Keep your automobile locked at all times
- Keep valuables in a safe place
- Do not hide or loan out your door key
- If using alcohol, do so in moderation
- REMEMBER - CALL 236-4357 for HELP

Unauthorized use of buildings. Any student found in campus buildings after normal operating hours without authorization, or found on any roof will be fined $500. Students found inside constructions areas on campus will be fined $500.

Party in a residence hall. Students may not host or participate in parties in residence halls. This includes all rooms and public spaces. The president's room and the rooms on the second floor of fraternity/sorority houses are considered residence hall rooms for this purpose. If students are cited for hosting a party, the fine will be $100 multiplied by the number of residents who live in that particular residence. Those residents who are present at the time of the citation will be responsible for paying the entire fine. For example, if a Hillside unit is cited for having a party in the living room area, since six students live in each Hillside, the fine would be $600. In this Hillside example, if only two of the residents were present, only those two residents would be responsible for the $600 fine. If none of the residents were present at the time, the fine would be evenly distributed among all six who live there. Students are responsible for any activity taking place in their room regardless if they are present. If the party was contained to one room in the Hillside unit, the two residents of that room would be responsible for the fine, which in this case would be $$100 \times 2 = \200 .

Railroad property. Students are prohibited from entering railroad property. This includes parking lots, access roads, or any other property owned by the railroad. Students found on railroad property are subject to arrest for trespassing. Student vehicles parked on railroad property are subject to be towed by railroad personnel.

FIRE SAFETY REGULATIONS / POLICY

- Smoking is not allowed in campus buildings, including residences and rooms
- Electric appliances, hotplates, George Foreman type grills, toaster ovens, frying pans, waffle irons, portable heaters, microwave ovens (over 900 watts), refrigerators (over 6 cubic feet), self-installed ceiling fans, halogen lamps, candles, incense, and air conditioners are not allowed to be used in campus buildings, including residences
- No more than one over-stuffed chair or one sofa may be placed in any residence hall room
- Extension cords may be used on a limited basis but must be UL approved, heavy-duty 14-gauge wire, and may not be located under a bed or rug
- Motorcycles and bicycles may not be kept in the residence hall/house or rooms, hallways, stairwells, or in any other location which would interfere with fire exits from the building or cause a safety hazard for others. Locked bicycle sheds are located at three locations on campus

SEXUAL MISCONDUCT

Centre College is a caring community that places a premium on student safety and healthy relationships. As part of Centre's commitment to campus well-being, The Sexual Misconduct Policy was created and is intended to send a clear and unmistakable statement against sexual misconduct of any kind. The policy incorporates specific definitions of sexual misconduct behavior that includes sexual harassment, violence, exploitation, stalking, bullying, retaliation, and cyber-related misconduct.

As part of the College's strategy, Centre students, faculty, and staff participate in an educational program called "Haven—Understanding Sexual Assault." The program was created by EverFi, a national leader in sexual assault prevention, and the most widely used alcohol prevention program in higher education.

All incoming, first-year students are expected to complete this training module, along with another called AlcoholEDU prior to their arrival for the beginning of the academic year.

For more information please view the Interim Sexual Misconduct Policy (effective August 14, 2020) located on the Centre College website here https://centrenet.centre.edu/ICS/icsfs/Interim_Sexual_Misconduct_Policy_for_2020-2021.pdf?target=f697b98e-cf24-482a-b8ef-a85f4f69d7ec. We pledge continuing efforts to build and strengthen a community enriched by our differences and founded upon our common humanity.

Sending your child off to college is a big step for them AND for you. As a parent you can't help to worry about them and their safety. Should your child go missing Centre staff will do everything they can to assist you, but colleges are not set up to find missing students, especially if a student goes missing while off campus - which is the case 96% of the time. In that situation, the college relies on law enforcement agencies. Call Alert Center is the premier recovery service with a 100% recovery rate since 2005. They specialize in creating and distributing information quickly to mass numbers for a successful return.

Call Alert Center is pleased to offer Centre parents a 20% discount, for only $13.50 per year per student. You may then renew your membership each year your student is in college.

To learn more about their services and to register, (enter promo code CACSPECIAL) please visit the website at <https://callalertcenter.com/college>

MONEY MATTERS

This information is from the finance office and the office that monitors student work-study. Hopefully it will help you understand how student accounts works. The student's ID card provides access to three accounts: Centre Bucks, Flex $$, and Student Printing. Note that Centre laundry facilities are FREE.

CENTRE BUCKS

The Centre Bucks account is a declining debit account that runs through the student ID card, which can be swiped at any of these locations:

- The Centre Bookstore
- Papa Johns
- CVS Pharmacy
- About 20 campus Pepsi machines
- Centre Document Services (CDS)

Campus dining (Cowan, Sandella's, and the Everyday Café) DO NOT accept Centre Bucks.

Students may add to their Centre Bucks at any time through the Finance Office. Call or come into the office to make a deposit using cash, check, or credit card (American Express, MasterCard, and Visa) a fee of 2.75% will be added to all credit or debit card transactions. Bucks left at the end of the year is carried over to the next academic year.

FLEX $$ AND MEAL PLANS

Flex $$ are attached to the student's meal plan and are under the control of Sodexo (our campus food service). Both the meal plan and Flex $$ are accessed by using the student ID card. Flex $$ may be used at Cowan Dining Hall (when a student has used up their allotted meals for the week under their plan), the Everyday Café, and the Hall of Fame Café.

A student may add to their Flex $$ account by check (to Sodexo) or cash at Cowan Dining Hall. Flex $$ carry over from fall term to winter/spring term. Flex $$ left at the end of the year DO NOT carry over to the next academic year. Most students find very creative ways to spend every last penny if it appears they may have any left at the end of the year.

CASHING CHECKS, BANKS, AND ATMS

There is one ATM machine on campus (located in the Campus Center). The ATM is through Community Trust Bank. Other ATMs are located at banks or stores located within one or two blocks of campus.

The campus cashier's office is open from 8:30-4:30 (closed 12-1) and will cash checks up to $100 for students. The local Farmers National Bank will cash student checks for any amount as long as the student has an ID.

Contact Finance Office

The Finance Office is located in the Horky House. The Cashier's Office is on the first floor. Hours are Monday through Friday from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., closed noon to 1 p.m. for lunch during normal operating schedule.

STUDENT EMPLOYMENT

A mailing will go to all first-year students with federal work study by the end of June. Students will find out their job placement during orientation in late August.

Federal work study is paid directly to the student and is not credited to the student account.

Students who work on campus are required to complete employment paperwork—federal and state tax forms and the federal I-9 form.

Please have a conversation with your student about taxes, how they should claim, etc. so they won't be confused when completing the forms.

The Federal Department of Labor requires ALL employers to see two ORIGINAL forms of ID with the I-9 form. This means that your student will need to bring TWO forms of ID for completion of this form (unexpired passport, driver's license, social security card, or birth certificate). Please see the Federal I-9 form for a complete list of acceptable documents. Students will be required to have all paperwork complete and IDs submitted before they'll be allowed to work at Centre.

Questions regarding student employment paperwork can be addressed to Glenda Beaven at glenda.beaven@centre.edu or (859) 238-5464 or Meredith Bruner at meredith.bruner@centre.edu or (859) 238-5466.

Student Payroll Direct Deposit

Students who have a campus work-study job (aid or non-aid), are eligible to have their pay direct deposited into the checking or savings account of their choice (anywhere in the U.S.). We strongly encourage all student workers to enroll in direct deposit for not only reasons of convenience, but to also eliminate the risk of their live check being lost or stolen. They can enroll in direct deposit via their student tab on CentreNet at any time (now even)! They'll just click on their student tab, select the "Student Services" link to enroll in direct deposit from the "Direct Deposit Enrollment" section and then key in their nine digit bank routing number and full account number.

Questions regarding direct deposit can be addressed to Meredith Bruner at meredith.bruner@centre.edu or (859) 238-5466.

FINANCIAL AID

Need-based financial aid is awarded to students who demonstrate financial need and meet Centre's application deadline. The Financial Aid Office determines financial need. The analysis determines what funds are reasonably available from the family to pay for a college education. It is likely that a student's aid will change from year to year because Centre's charges may change and/or the family's ability to contribute may change. Some factors that affect the family's ability to contribute are: salary increases/decreases or siblings begin or graduate from college.

Students receiving Federal Pell grants and/or state KTG and CAP grants must enroll in a minimum of 12 hours per fourteen-week term to retain the maximum award. Merit Scholars, Performing Arts and Language Award recipients, and Legacy Endowment, and Centre Grant recipients must enroll full time.

A financial aid package may contain grant, loan and/or campus job components. A grant is gift money to the student; and the remaining self-help portion of aid is money borrowed or earned by the student (loan(s) and/or campus job).

Federal regulations require that all students who receive Federal or state financial assistance make Satisfactory academic progress toward a degree. This includes: Federal Pell Grants, Federal Supplemental Educational opportunity Grants, KHEAA State Grants, Federal Work-Study, Federal Perkins Loans, Federal Stafford loans, Federal PLUS Loans, other aid involving Title IV funds, or any other aid for which satisfactory progress is a requirement. These policies apply only to eligibility to receive financial aid and not to academic status. The satisfactory academic progress of students will be monitored annually at the end of each long semester. Recipients of Centre College endowment funds (awarded for a maximum of ten long terms), must also meet the Standards of Satisfactory Academic Progress:

- Students must progress qualitatively by earning the required grade point average (achievement).
- Students must progress quantitatively by completing the required minimum number of credits each year (Pace).
- Students must complete their program of study within a reasonable time period (duration).

For more information on Financial Aid please visit the website at <https://www.centre.edu/aid/>

PAYMENT PLANS AND BILLING

First-year parents should receive a statement for Fall term during the first week of July. Parent Plus Loans, Stafford Loans, and Pell Grants will NOT be posted on the statement until the first week of class. Simply subtract those amounts (less any loan processing fees) from your statement and pay the difference.

If you have any questions when you get your bill or want to know about the payment options, you can call the Cashier's Office at (859) 238-5452.

Statements are mailed to the student at his/her permanent address. If a campus or alternate billing address is required, a form containing such information must be completed by the student in the Registrar's Office.

A student's account must be paid in full before any monies are accepted for the next year's CentreTerm trip deposits. A student cannot receive official certifications, including transcripts and grades, from the college if delinquent with any financial obligation to the college. Additionally, a student will not be permitted to participate in any pre-registration activities if there are unpaid balances owed to the college.

2020-21 IMPORTANT ACADEMIC DATES & DEADLINES

During CentreTerm, students take one course. There are usually study abroad opportunities during this term. It is also a great time for juniors and seniors to do an internship for academic credit.

FAQ: ACADEMICS

Do students work with an academic advisor?

Yes. Students have a general advisor for the first and second years, often matched by interests, and then are assigned an advisor in a specific academic discipline once a major has been selected during Spring term, sophomore year. Working with an advisor involves a two-way dialogue between the student and the faculty advisor. Students and advisors should be very engaged in the process. Dr. Mary Gulley, assistant dean of advising, helps to coordinate and facilitate advising and course registration.

What resources are available for a student having trouble selecting a major or career?

The Center for Career & Professional Development helps guide students through the process of selecting majors and careers. They reach out to students at the beginning of their first year and can assist with the entire career development process – self-discovery, choosing a major, exploring career fields, and gaining career-relevant experience.

Students also work closely with their academic advisor to determine appropriate major choices given career interests and academic performance in particular courses. Through discussions occurring over the first two years, advisors are able to help students make choices in their studies, internships, and other interests to help guide students toward a good academic major fit.

Is assistance provided to students with learning disabilities?

Yes. All incoming students are invited to register documentation of a physical or learning disability. Applicants indicating the need for special services are encouraged to contact the Student Life Office and the assistant dean for advising immediately upon acceptance to make timely provision of needed services possible. Arrangements for services, equipment, modification of course material, classroom and housing assignments, and other reasonable accommodations may require several weeks advance notice.

How does Centre handle midterm grades?

Fall and Spring midterm grade reports are available online via CentreNet to students. Midterm grades are only given if a student is receiving a grade of D or U.

End-of-term grades are available online via CentreNet to students approximately five days after the last final exam IF the student completes all course evaluations. Grades are withheld for two weeks for students who do not complete course evaluations.

Grades are not mailed unless specifically requested in writing. Students are encouraged to share all aspects of their academic progress with their parents. The Family Educational Right to Privacy Act provides that an educational institution will maintain the confidentiality of student education records.

THE FAMILY EDUCATIONAL RIGHT TO PRIVACY ACT (FERPA)

The Family Educational Right to Privacy Act (FERPA) of 1974, as amended, is a federal law, which states that a written institutional policy must be established and made available. The law provides that the institution will maintain the confidentiality of student education records.

Centre College accords all the rights under the law to students. No one outside the institution shall have access nor will the institution disclose any information from students' education records without the consent of students except to personnel within the institution, to persons or organizations providing students financial aid, to accrediting agencies carrying out their accreditation function, to organizations conducting certain studies for educational purposes for or on behalf of the college, to persons in compliance with a judicial order, and to persons in an emergency in order to protect the health or safety of students or other persons. Anyone to whom a record is disclosed is prohibited from further disclosing the record except in accordance with the law and this policy. Under FERPA, a college cannot release education records to a parent unless the parent has provided evidence that the student is a dependent of the parent for tax purposes. A parent can send to the Registrar's Office a written request for the release of records along with a copy of the relevant portions of the parent's most recent federal tax filing showing the student is claimed as a dependent. These documents will be kept in the Registrar's Office.

The college discloses education records without a student's prior written consent under the FERPA exception for disclosure to school officials with legitimate educational interests. A school official is a person employed by the college in an administrative, supervisory, academic or research, or support staff position (including public safety personnel and health staff); a person or company with whom the college has contracted as its agent to provide a service instead of using college employees or officials (such as an attorney, auditor, or collection agent); a person serving on the Board of Trustees; or a student serving on an official committee, such as a disciplinary or grievance committee, or assisting another school official in performing his or her tasks. A school official has a legitimate educational interest if the official needs to review an education record in order to fulfill his or her professional responsibilities for the college.

At its discretion, the institution may provide directory information in accordance with the provisions of FERPA to include: student name, local, and permanent address, Centre College network e-mail address, local and permanent telephone number, date and place of birth, major and minor fields of study, dates of attendance, anticipated graduation date, degrees and awards received, student photograph, the most recent previous educational institution attended by the student, participation in officially recognized activities and sports, weight and height of members of athletic teams, and religious affiliation when voluntarily provided. Students may withhold directory information by notifying the registrar in writing. New students must indicate their request to withhold directory information the summer prior to enrolling at the college. Returning students must inform the Registrar's Office by May 30 if they wish to withhold directory information. Forms for making such requests are available in the Registrar's Office. Requests for nondisclosure will be honored by the institution for only one academic year; therefore, authorization to withhold directory information must be filed annually in the Registrar's Office. The college reserves the right to verify the enrollment status and degrees earned by any student at any time.

The law provides students with the right to inspect and review information contained in their education records, to challenge the contents of their education records, to have a hearing if the outcome of the challenge is unsatisfactory, and to submit explanatory statements for inclusion in their files if the decisions of the hearing panels are unacceptable. The registrar at Centre College has been designated by the institution to coordinate the inspection and review procedures for student education records.

Student records are kept in several offices on campus. Appropriate admission records are transferred to the Registrar's Office upon enrollment at the college. Academic records and entrance testing records are maintained in the Registrar's Office. Financial records are maintained in the Finance Office and the student financial planning office. Student health records are maintained in the Parsons Center for Student Health and Counseling. The registrar maintains records of academic or social disciplinary actions that require withdrawal, suspension, or expulsion. Other disciplinary records are maintained by the dean of student life or associate dean for five years beyond graduation and will be consulted in response to requests from professional schools, graduate programs, licensing agencies, or potential employers when such requests contain or are accompanied by student's signed release. NOTE: Records created and maintained by the department of public safety for the purpose of law enforcement are not education records and may be released to law enforcement officials and others at the college's discretion.

Students wishing to review their education records should make their requests to the appropriate office, listing the item or items of interest; a written request may be required. Records covered by FERPA will be made available within forty-five days of the request. Students may have copies made of their records with certain exceptions, (e.g., a copy of the academic record for which a financial "hold" exists, or a transcript of an original or source document which exists elsewhere). These copies would be made at the student's expense at the rate of ten cents a page. Education records do not include: records of instructional, administrative, and educational personnel which are the sole possession of the maker and are not accessible or revealed to any individual except a temporary substitute; certain student health records; certain employment records; or alumni records. Physicians of the student's choosing, however, may review health records.

Students may not inspect and review the following as outlined by FERPA: financial information submitted by their parents; confidential letters and recommendations associated with admission, employment or job placement, or honors to which they have waived their rights of inspection and review; or education records containing information about more than one student, in which case the institution will permit access only to that part of the record which pertains to the inquiring student. The institution is not required to permit students to inspect and review confidential letters and recommendations placed in their files prior to January 1, 1975 provided those letters were collected under established policies of confidentiality and were used only for the purposes for which they were collected.

Students who believe that their education records contain information that is inaccurate or misleading, or is otherwise in violation of their privacy or other rights may discuss their problems informally with the registrar. If the decisions are in agreement with the students' requests, the appropriate records will be amended. If not, the students will be notified within a reasonable period of time that the records will not be amended; and they will be informed by the Registrar's Office of their right to a formal hearing. Student requests for a formal hearing must be made in writing to the dean of the college who, within a reasonable period of time after receiving such requests, will inform students of the date, place, and time of the hearings. Students may present evidence relevant to the issues raised and may be assisted or represented at the hearings by one or more persons of their choice, including attorneys, at the students' expense. The Academic Standards Committee will adjudicate such challenges.

Decisions of the Academic Standards Committee will be final, will be based solely on the evidence presented at the hearing, and will consist of written statements summarizing the evidence and stating the reasons for the decisions, and will be delivered to all parties concerned. The education records will be corrected or amended in accordance with the decisions of the Academic Standards Committee, if the decisions are in favor of the student. If the decisions are unsatisfactory to the student, the student may place with the education records statements commenting on the information in the records, or statements setting forth any reasons for disagreeing with the decisions of the Academic Standards Committee. The statements will be placed in the education records, maintained as part of the student's records, and released whenever the records in question are disclosed. Students who believe that the adjudication of their challenges were unfair or not in keeping with the provision of the act may request, in writing, assistance from the President of the College to aid them in filing complaints with The Family Policy Compliance Office, U.S. Department of Education, 400 Maryland Avenue, SW, Washington, D.C. 20202-5920.

For more on FERPA laws visit their website at <http://www2.ed.gov/policy/gen/guid/fpco/ferpa/index.html>

REGISTRAR'S OFFICE

The Registrar's Office maintains student records, including the recording of grades on the student's academic transcript and most biographical data on students. All address changes, including parent address changes, should be reported to the Registrar's Office (and must be requested by the student, not the parents).

They also coordinate all activities associated with course registration. Students may come to the Registrar's Office to add or drop classes, receive permission to transfer courses, have their enrollment verified for various organizations such as insurance companies and financial aid entities, and have their academic record (transcript) sent to graduate and professional schools, employers, references, etc.

Transcript requests may be placed in person, by mail, by fax, or by email through the Registrar's Office. Phone requests are not accepted. The student's signature is required, preferably on a transcript request form. Parents cannot request a transcript for their student. There is no charge for normal transcript services, and requests are usually filled within two working days. Electronic transcript delivery is available for a nominal fee through a third party provider. By college policy, no transcript is sent if the student has an outstanding financial obligation to the college.

The Registrar's Office is responsible for verifying student progress toward the degree, including tracking progress in completing general education and major/minor requirements. The associate registrar is specifically responsible for working with seniors and the graduation process. Students may come to the office at any time to check on their progress in meeting degree requirements.

Forms for requesting a variety of services, a complete list of degree requirements, majors and course descriptions, and academic regulations, are available in the Registrar's Office and online.

The Registrar's Office is located on the first floor of Wiseman Hall and is open Monday through Friday, 8:30 a.m. to noon and 1 to 4:30 p.m.
Call: (859) 238-5360.

ABOUT STUDY ABROAD

We consider living and studying in a foreign culture to be an integral part of a liberal arts education, and study abroad has become one of the hallmarks of a Centre education. Many students find their sophomore or junior year is the best time to participate in a residential program. However, rising sophomores, juniors, and seniors all are eligible to apply. Students do not need to have studied a foreign language.

CentreTerm and Summer Programs Abroad

In addition to the semester programs, there are also study abroad opportunities for CentreTerm in January. There are 14 typical international locations to choose from. Centre faculty members lead groups of students to study in their areas of expertise around the world. Recent sites include Amsterdam, Barbados, Borneo, Cameroon, China, Ghana, Greece, Israel/Jordan, Italy, Peru, New Zealand and Vietnam, among others. Students with Spanish skills can elect to do an internship through our Merida program.

Non-Centre-Run Programs Abroad

Students take a temporary leave of absence from Centre to study in semester programs sponsored by the Kentucky Institute for International Study or other outside providers. Financial considerations prevent some students from taking this option, since students who are on leaves of absence are not eligible to receive any Centre money and, by law, our financial aid office is not allowed to process state or federal aid due the student. Students planning to participate in a non-Centre program should get prior approval from the Center for Global Citizenship and the registrar to make certain that all courses will count toward a Centre degree.

HOW THE CENTER FOR CAREER & PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT CAN HELP YOUR STUDENT

The Center for Career & Professional Development helps students make effective transitions from Centre to both career and post-graduate study. We offer a variety of experiences, partnerships, and services that students may take advantage of throughout their four years at the College to enhance their prospects for career success and satisfaction. We seek to blend the liberal arts education with career readiness in order to help students navigate this journey, and integrate career planning with academic planning over the course of several years. A few ways we do this are:

CAREER DEVELOPMENT

Career Counseling – Students are introduced to the Center for Career & Professional Development during the very beginning of their first semester on campus (through Extended Orientation). They are encouraged to meet with their career counselor early and often to start thinking about their own personal career development. Toward this end, students are assigned to a career counselor based on their intended major, or they can meet with the counselor for undecided students. Topics covered throughout their four years are up to the student, but often include:

- Choosing a major
- Career exploration (including self-assessments)
- Career decision-making
- Experiential opportunities
- Networking
- Professional development
- Job searching
- Researching and applying to graduate schools

Career Roadmap – Students are given this year-by-year guide that they can follow, not only enabling them to see and communicate the connections between their college experience and potential future career fields but also increasing their chances of career satisfaction and success after graduation. Students' career counselors can walk them through the Roadmap and help them make the most of their time here at Centre. (To see a Roadmap, click here.)

Career Chats – Monthly series for all students in which two alumni discuss their career field and give advice on getting into that field. Alumni are brought in virtually from around the nation. Career topics rotate annually and are typically generated through input from Centre faculty and students.

PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT

We work closely with students to teach them the professionalism skills employers say are essential for workplace success. The services we offer focusing on students' professional development include:

- Emerging Professionals Series – monthly series covering professionalism topics such as net working, workplace etiquette, etc.
- Resume and cover letter writing and reviews
- Mock interviews (videotaped practice interviews)
- Career Mentor Directory – an on-line directory of alumni interested in providing career information and networking opportunities to students
- Direct connection with employers – on-campus information sessions, mock interviews, resume reviews, on-campus interviews, and the annual Spotlight Career Fair

INTERNSHIPS AND INTERNSHIP FUNDING

In order to help students gain professional experience and make connections between their academic studies and the world of work, we offer a wide range of internships to students, both academic credit and non-credit. We work individually with students to guide them through the process of locating and applying to internships. In addition, we have several competitive funding programs for CentreTerm and summer internships.

SPECIAL EVENTS

- Career KickStart (geared primarily toward Sophomores, but open to all)
- Senior Celebration
- Career Chats
- Emerging Professionals Series
- Etiquette Dinner
- Law School Fair
- Get LinkedIn! registration drive

PEER EDUCATORS

The Center for Career & Professional Development recently began employing students as Peer Educators in our office. These students are extensively trained to provide “front-line” career and professional development services to their peers including, but not limited to, providing guidance on creating a resume, locating internship resources, applying for summer internship funding, and researching graduate and professional schools. A few features of this program:

- Weekly walk-in hours
- Career and professional development programming to student groups
- Late evening “peer-to-peer” tables

This program allows students to connect with their peers for basic career information and resources, before talking in-depth with a career counselor. In addition, it helps us extend our reach, impacting more students throughout their four years at Centre.

Please encourage your students to become involved with our office from the very beginning of their time here at Centre. The earlier students begin focusing on their career and professional development, the better their chances for post-graduate fulfillment and success!

HOW THE LIBRARY STAFF CAN HELP YOUR STUDENT

The Grace Doherty Library is located on the first floor of Crouse Hall. Hours vary so check the Library section of the Centre website for hours and more information on the resources that are available.

One of the goals of the library staff is to help each student learn to use the library and its resources in a productive and efficient manner. Just as Centre faculty members are available to work closely with students in their classes, the library staff are available to work closely with any student and help them with their research needs. Students should feel comfortable asking one of the reference librarians for help with any type of research question that arises.

Sometimes, students (especially first-year students) are afraid to ask librarians a question, thinking the question is stupid or is something they should be expected to know. Please assure them that there is no question we consider too simple to ask! Every year, we encounter students who have spent hours searching for library materials and have come up empty-handed. We can help—please encourage your students to ask the library staff for help!

The following are just some of the ways the library staff can be of assistance to your student:

- Help them find resources for assigned papers, projects, and/or presentations. All they need to do is visit or email one of the reference librarians with their research topic or need.
- Help them develop a strategy for researching a topic.
- Help them determine which online database is the best one for them to use to find journal articles for a particular topic (the library subscribes to over 100 databases!). Just Googling a topic or relying on Wikipedia isn't acceptable for classes at Centre.

- Help them find the full-text of a journal article they've identified in an index.
- Help them find books in Centre's library on a particular topic.
- Help them find a book on the shelf if they are unable to find it themselves.
